

Police Report

"Innocent Bystanders" Turn Over Marijuana

10-3-90

A Utah Highway Patrol trooper called Wasatch County Sheriff Edd Thacker to assist in a search for a car reported off the road as the result of an accident in the Bonanza Flat area, Saturday evening. They followed some loud radio music to a damaged car with a couple of men inside, but the damage was not recent.

Thacker said he spotted a large ash burning on the front of one man's shirt, which was not the average cigarette ash. The officers asked him if he had any marijuana and he said no. But Thacker said when they asked the second man if he had any, he answered, "Yeah," and the two were arrested for alleged possession of marijuana.

Thacker said the car involved in the accident was probably driven away from the scene.

Lt. Dan Henley, Salt Lake City Police Department reported a six-year-old boy was referred to his parents after he was discovered with a cigarette lighter near the site of a brush fire northwest of the U.S. 40-189 intersection at about 5 p.m. Sept. 26.

$1,000 worth of mechanical hand tools in a metal tool box drawer were taken from the carport of a Charleston residence the night of Sept. 23. Thacker said the victim's name or social security number is on each tool.

About $50 in damages resulted when suspects kicked a door at the Wasatch Middle School Monday morning, Henley reported. The case is being investigated as an attempted burglary, but the suspects did not gain entry.

A red Homelite 2 chainsaw with an 18-inch blade was reported taken from a shed near 500 East and 400 South in Heber City, Henley said. The saw looks new but is three years old.

DUI charges are pending against a man who allegedly ran into a truck parked near 3000 South and 150 East on Sept. 28 at about 2:30 p.m. Thacker said damage to each vehicle was about $800 but the suspect was not injured.

A gray and red Bridgestone mountain bike, valued at $360, was reported taken from the entrance to Interlocken Estates, Sept. 26. The victim drove the bike to the site and left it while he took the bus to school, Thacker said.

Henley said a case of criminal mischief had been reported in which a political sign was damaged with black paint, the evening of Sept. 30. A second political sign has been reported missing.

Oct. 11-12 Vacation For Convention For Teachers

While students are home, teachers from around the state will be attending the annual Utah Education Association Convention. This year, Oct. 11-12, is the 129th year educators have met to share, discuss, and be introduced to new ideas in education. The convention is not only one of Utah's largest, but one and teachers attend because they want to. Special speakers attract many. This year, Bert Simmons, president of The Education Company, will be the keynote speaker. He says, "I believe our children are our greatest resource...and I believe parents are the single greatest influence on children." His speech